Fabulous Fads!

Fads were plentiful at BHS this past year. Favorite Christmas gifts consisted of ruffles and tuxedo-look blouses, bomber jackets, and "box" stereo systems.

Penny loafers and button-down oxford cloth shirts remained in the campus style. More students were on the conservative side of fashion; however, a few fast-paced people broke the monotony by sporting mini-skirts, and "punk" hair cuts.

For foot fashion at BHS anything (save bare feet) goes!

Ruffles blouses were one of the fall fads at BHS.

Timeless fashions: oxford cloth shirts.

The bottom half fashions consisted of Levi's, Lee's, Calvin Klein, Gloria Vanderbilt, and Sedgefield jeans.

Bomber jackets and monogrammed sweaters were really in this year.

Paw Power!

Three of our seniors kept alive the tradition of painting the rock before the Stevenson ballgame. The rock has been a symbol of our #1 status for many years. On November 4, the night before the "Big Game," many of us students just happened to turn up on Battery Hill after the pep rally to protect the rock from the Panthers.

During the breaks on Friday, the day of the GAME, the basketball cheerleaders painted Tiger paws on the cheeks of paying customers. For the biggest game of the year, there was cheering throughout the halls of BHS on this, another "Slop the Hogs" day.

Pep Rallies Remembered

Who will ever forget the pep rallies we had, the cheering of "Yeah, Tigers!", "So!", "Seniors!", and "Juniors!"? The competition between the juniors and seniors for the spirit key was usually very heated. The band played favorite songs, the cheerleaders cheered, the seniors sang the Alma Mater, and the student body formed a huddle with the football team at the end. Pep rallies were great!

Rising Up to the Challenge
of
Our Rivals

During the autumn of 1982, along with falling leaves, came many exciting weeks of pep rallies, and football games. Ray Janney's Steak and Shake was the site of our Thursday night pep rallies where we stuck together as a school. Pep rallies during school on Fridays brought classes together in hopes of winning the spirit key. Then off we went to the ball games to cheer the Tigers on to victory.

Staying Tough, Staying Hungry

We at BHS were always hungry for excitement. We received a lot of it when we revived the tradition of having a homecoming parade. We had a float contest among the seniors, juniors, sophomores, and freshmen. We worked on our floats during the week of homecoming and then presented them at the parade on Thursday. The juniors came away the winners with their theme of "The Tigers are out of this world."

Even though we had our share of fun times, we had study time too. It seemed we were always preparing for a test in one of our classes. Things really got rough when several of our teachers decided to give tests on the same day, but we all managed to struggle through the rough times one way or another.

FALL

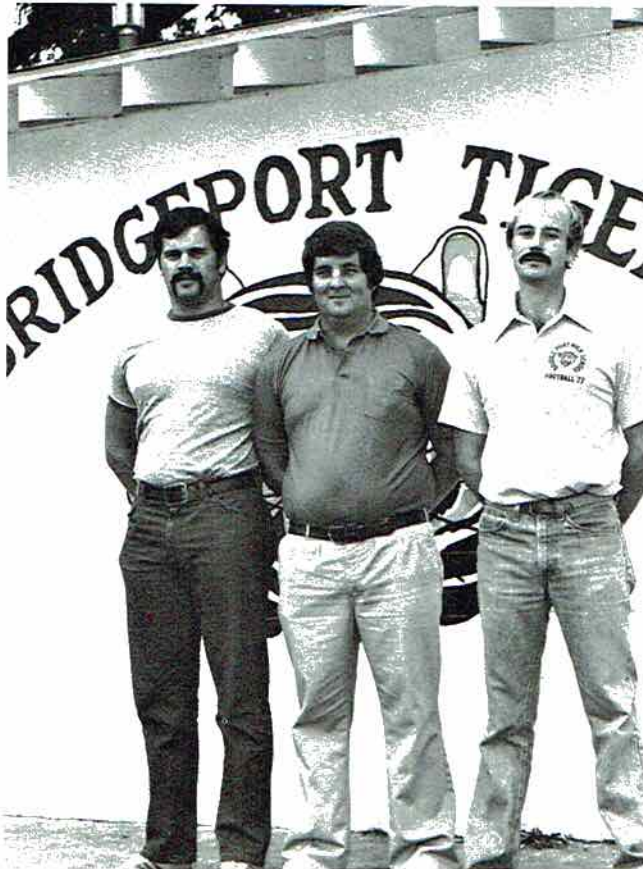

The 1982-83 Tigers

"It's the eye of the Tiger
It's the gleam of the Fight;

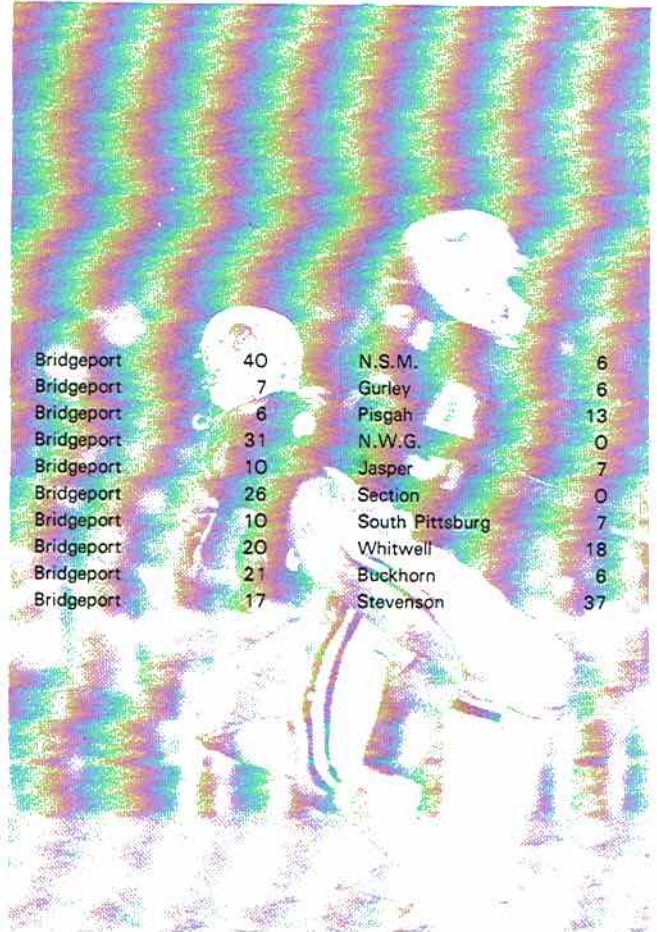

Rising up to the challenge of our rivals."

Our team accepted the challenge of our rivals this year and worked very hard to defeat them. The record stood at 8-2.

We appreciate our football team and all the hard work and effort they put into the games.

The 1982-83 Varsity Cheerleaders

... did a superb job of producing spirit at BHS. They spent many hours after school practicing, making signs, and working hard. They organized special days such as 50's Day and Slop the Hogs Day.

The cheerleaders helped the team; without them, there would not have been the atmosphere of winning that prevailed at Bridgeport.

Homecoming Court

During the halftime of the Bridgeport-Jasper game, the homecoming queen, Christel Rogers, was crowned in the presence of her six attendants. Before the entrance of the court, four previous homecoming queens were recognized as they rode around the field in Corvettes; they were Rhonda Potterfield, 1977; Kathy Kemp, 1972; Margaret Stewart, 1967; and Dorothy Jane Williams, 1962. All in all, homecoming was an event never to be forgotten.

The Band of Blue has lost and gained many good players over the years. Through sheer determination and will power, the band has shown that it is still one of the best bands in the county. The band has shown its determination by practicing long and hard during hot, blistering summer sun. This determination has shown itself time and time again with scores received from the contests the band entered and in trophies proudly brought home. The contests that our band attended were: Sequatchie Marching Band Festival, Sand Mountain Invitational Marching Band Festival, Atlantic States Marching Band Festival, Pell City Marching Band Festival, and Gordo Marching Band Festival. Total Achievements of the Band of Blue were eleven Superior trophies and five Excellent trophies.

Fantastic Fun in the Fall!

Mr. Muscles Mark Dover!

Our cheerleaders impersonate Stevenson celebrities.

Could it be the Annual staff at Russell Cave?

This fall many of our male athletes formed a mysterious club called The Card People. No one knew how this group was started, but everyone knew who the members were by the things they said: "So!" "Dick's Pond," "We got cards", "You know it!" and "Shut up, Rabbit!"

During the fall months, life at BHS seemed to revolve around football. The last two days of each week were very active. Who could ever forget the crazy dress-up days we had: Punk Rock Day, Tie Day, Hat Day, 50's Day, and, of course, Slop the Hogs Day. The bonfire pep rallies on Thursday nights, the cheering during breaks and, of course, the games on Friday nights kept us busy this fall.

“83” Varsity Basketball

The Bridgeport High School varsity basketball team had a successful season. Vincent Robinson shined as the high scorer for the forceful Tiger team. The varsity boys came in second during the Christmas Tournament; however, the varsity girls pulled through to lead the Tigers to the tournament championship. Sophomores, including our high scorer, made up the major part of the team. Overall, we had a team to be proud of.

The Student Council busied itself this winter with such activities as its annual rose sale, blood drive, and the Mr. and Miss BHS coronation.

Following the January 11th coronation, a reception was held in the library for teachers, court members, and their parents.

Valentine's Day brought forth the diligence of the Student Council in both the Blood Drive and the Rose Sale. The Blood Drive yielded 29 pints of blood and, once again, the Rose Sale was a "sell-out."

Besides these annual events, winter at BHS brought many days of excitement, including basketball games, an air guitar contest, and even some summer-like days.

The top winners were: third place, Joan Jett and the Blackhearts—Jennifer Smith, Gayla Burrows, Cindy Jones, Kandi Gilley, Tammy Jackson, Kim Graham, and Sharon Steele; second place, the Go-Go's—Susie Eldridge, Holli Davis, Stephanie Matthews, Alicia Whitcher and Melissa Cooper; first place, Kool—Chris Bynum, Cory Dave, Lee Hardrick, Charlie Morris, and John Kowdis.

Anyone who has lettered in a varsity sport is eligible to join the "B" Club. This year the initiation lasted two long tough days, March 10 and 11.

Intramurals lasted two weeks this year with eight games being played during school. The seniors, going undefeated, dominated the girls' action. In the boys' games, the seniors and juniors were neck and neck until the last game when the seniors came out on top.

The Odds Are Against You

Comical calamity was the setting for the 1983 junior play, The Odds Are Against You.

Two lively grandmothers kept the Mondale family on its toes with their mischievous capers. Grandma Ed and Grandma Bill first got picked up for vandalism; then to raise $10,000 for an addition to the Mondale home, they bought a racehorse on credit . . . from a gangster! To make things worse Gerald's brother-in-law, Uncle Alfred, helped the Grandmas buy the horse.

Big Louie sends two of his hit men, Zeke and Little Claude, to collect his $20,000 for the racehorse. In the end the crooks are captured and the Mondale residence becomes an almost normal household again.

In addition to the hard work they put on the play, the juniors had lots of fun. They did such things as going to Hardee's after practice and breaking "Ferdinand" on the curtain call.

Many of the juniors who weren't in the play helped on the set or came to practice and gave the cast moral support. Before it was over, they thought the odds were against them! But they pulled through!

"Now, Gerald," soothes Emily Mondale (Marlena Hazard).

The Worm Shall Squirm

The setting for this year's senior play was the home of Homer Dunhagan, the principal of Brookfield High School and the father of 3 teenage children. If you think you've got troubles listen to the problems Homer has; then think again. His daughter Rosemary wants to be Homecoming Queen. As principal of the school and the one who picks the Homecoming Queen, he doesn't feel he should pick his own daughter. His other daughter Phyllis is a bookworm who is finally coming out of her shell. But she is doing it by participating in the noon time dances which he put a stop to. His son Leroy is mad at him because he expelled Rash Hudson, the star basketball player. He also has an angry mother calling him every five minutes.

How does he solve his problems? He lets Leroy and his best friend Buzzy become principals. After two days they gladly give the job back. Everything works out o.k. when the Homecoming Queen will be chosen by the students, Rash returns to school after he promises to behave, and the students realize they were getting better grades without the dances stopping them from studying.

Scholastic Leaders Are Recognized

The annual Honors Day Program was held on Tuesday 10, at 9:00 am. The purpose of this Awards Day is to honor the outstanding students from each class. One person from each class is selected to receive the class award.

The Honors Assembly began with the processional of the seniors attired in caps and gowns. One faculty member from each department presented the class awards from that department. Mrs. Tally announced the scholarship and other award winners. Then Mr. Parker announced the Honor Scholars, the senior students who had maintained an A average for the past four years. The program ended with the recessional of the seniors.

Junior-Senior Prom "Springtime Magic"

The prom has always been filled with dancing and romancing, and this year's prom carried on the tradition. However, there was something special about this particular prom. It was dedicated to the Senior Class. Gwen Allison, a junior, gave the dedication which was so pleasing to the seniors.

Spring Has Sprung

This spring was a very fulfilled, busy time of year. The calendar was full of such things as: the junior and senior plays, baseball games, the Spring Fling, Honors Day, the mock disaster, banquets, the prom, the senior class picnic, and the last Smarty Party.

This year's Spring Fling was held on April 22nd. The Sophomores came out on top with the seniors and juniors next in line. This year it had six new challenging events for the students to participate in. The mock disaster took place in the school parking lot. The Smarty Party, which was a new program sponsored by the Student Council, held its last party to honor those students who had been on the honor roll all five six weeks.

ORGANIZATIONS

Annual Staff

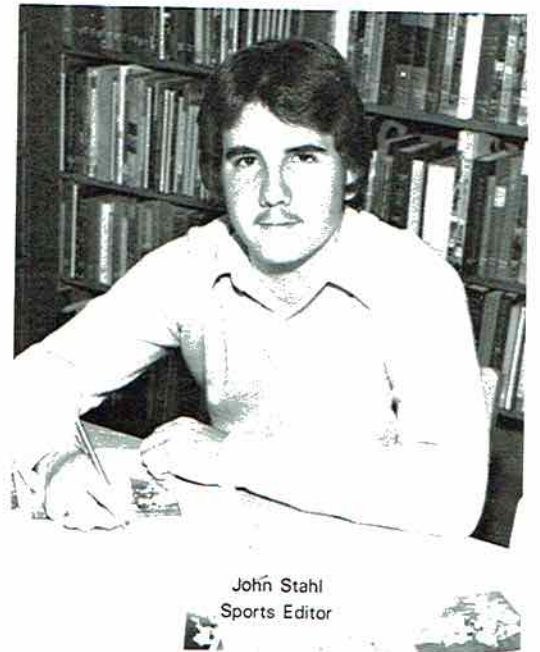

The BHS Annual Staff was a group of hardworking, fun-loving students. Part of our jobs consisted of writing copy, drawing up pages, and going on our infamous ad trips. During March, we held our annual Annual Staff Banquet at the Loft, including some comical capers provided by the Annual Staff. At the end of the year, we held elections for the new annual staff members and then had a party to celebrate the arrival of a half-new staff. We had loads of fun, but we worked hard to bring you this '83 Tiger.

Library Club

All students should acquire certain basic skills and knowledge pertaining to the library media center, and each student should acquire knowledge of research skills early in life. It is the library staff's goal to initiate instructions consistently through a unified plan of aiding students to become independent in their quest for information.

Officers: Pres., Mary Sue Collins; 1st Vice Pres., Richard Barham; 2nd Vice Pres., Gwen Allison; Sec.-Treasurer: Alan Payne.

Student Council

The Student Council is made up of representatives from each class and officers that are elected by the student body as a whole. The Student Council held elections within itself to elect an executive council. Everyone on the council must have at least a B average. The Student Council has really been getting down to business by raising money for various events to make school more enjoyable for everyone. They hold Smarty Parties for honor roll students, plan the Mr. and Miss B.H.S. Coronation, sponsor the Spring Fling, and hold receptions for distinguished guests who visit our school.

Have You Got That Spirit?

The Pep Club is the largest organization at Bridgeport High School. When it comes to spirit, this is where it all originates. The Pep Club cheers the Tigers to victory at home as well as at away games, adding a little "Razzledazzle" to the already unique actions of the Tigers. This club contributes to the Homecoming activities also. The club members sell candy and booster badges to pay for homecoming decorations as well as for transportation to away games.

Gleam of The Fight

The "B" Club is an honorary organization for the outstanding athletes of Bridgeport High School. To qualify as a member, students must first participate in Bridgeport's athletic program. They must then go through an enormously rough initiation. Not everyone makes it through to become a member, which makes it an honor to wear a "B".

Front Row: Norris Williams, Secretary and Mary Sue Collins, Treasurer.
 Second Row: Raymond Evans, President and Troy Raulston, Vice-President.

The F.H.A.

The F.H.A., Future Homemakers of America, have participated in activities in our school to make it look better. This activity included having a cookie sale to raise money. They also helped with the Student Council's reception for Senator Heflin. F.H.A. members are taught to find jobs and are taught about birth defects, alcoholism, drugs, and peer pressure and how to deal with them.

The F.F.A.

The F.F.A., Future Farmers of America, not only learn how to weld, repair things around the house, do woodworking, and repair small engines, but they are also taught how to realize their potential and choose a career. They learn how to pursue their chosen career through job interviews themselves. Therefore, being in the F.F.A, not only teaches about agriculture, but it also teaches how to get along better in life.

The Bridgeport High School Beta Club is a chapter of the National Beta Club.

To be eligible for this club, a student must have an overall B+ average. Members of the Beta Club are also the basis of the Blue and Gold paper staff. The Beta Club holds an initiation to honor those few students who are eligible to be in the club. The Beta Club, in conjunction with the Student Council, shows the importance of being academically outstanding by offering a scholarship.

Beta Club Officers: Mrs. Mountain, Sponsor; Charlene Rowland, President; Christel Rogers, Vice-President; Pat Carlton, Secretary; and Tammy Brown, Treasurer.

The Blue and Gold Staff

The paper staff is composed chiefly of members of the Beta Club and other interested students. The staff usually puts out a monthly paper filled with articles about local and school activities, sports reviews, interviews, want ads, a Dear Annie article which is an advice to the lovelorn column, and gossip columns, to keep the students informed about school activities.

Driver's Safety Club

The BHS Safety Club received two awards last year at the National Student Safety Program. One award was for being one of the top 30 clubs in the nation; the other was for being one of the top 10 clubs in the nation. Four students attended last year's conference in Niagara Falls: Mary Sue Collins, Suzanne Hughes, Susan Galovich, and John Stahl. They look forward to helping hold the 1983 conference, which will be in Mobile, Alabama.

Besides going to the NSSP conference, the club held a mock disaster and also gave talks on safety for the elementary school children.

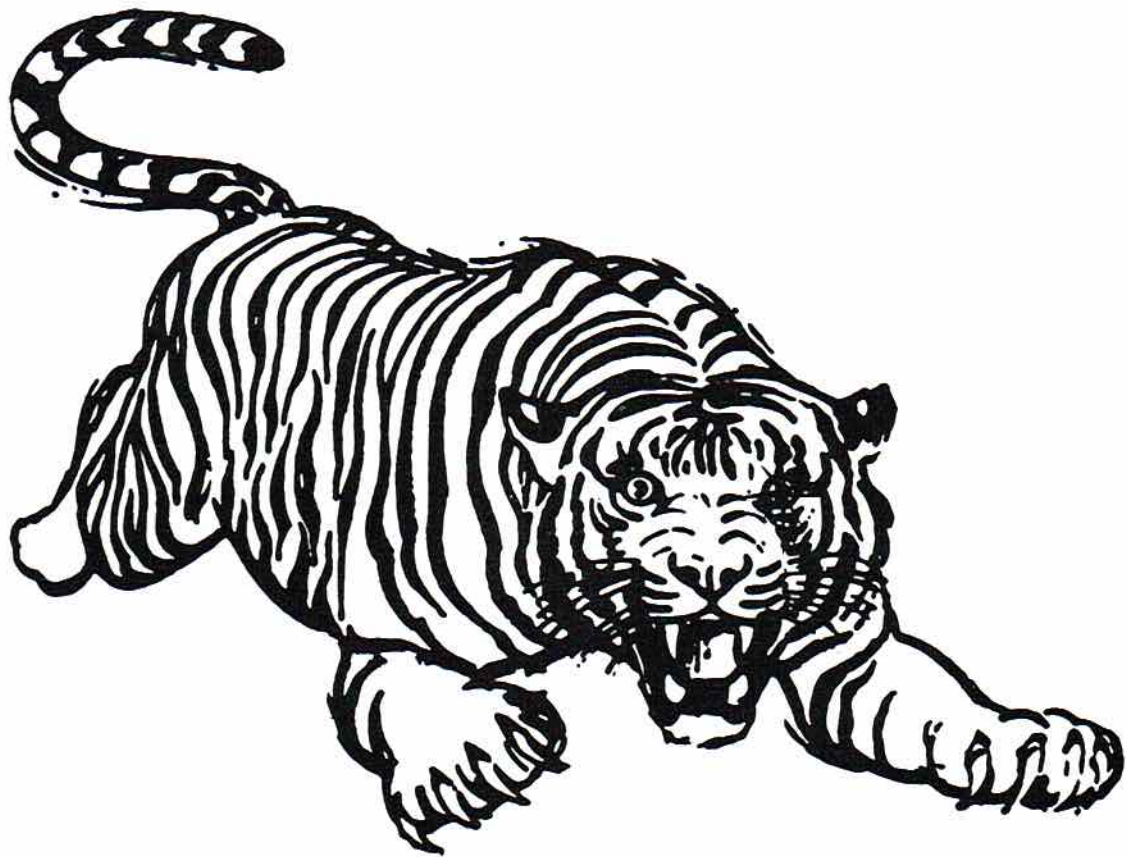

Officers: Suzanne Hughes, Connie Baker, Mr. Hughes, Sonia Allison, and Mary Sue Collins.

Our Faculty

Coach Kenneth Storey, P.E.

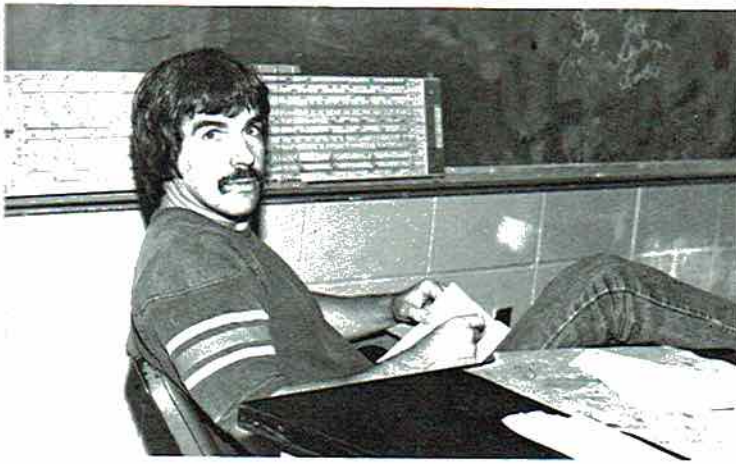

Mr. Paul L. Parker, Principal

Mrs. Elizabeth Mountain, English

Mrs. Paula Tally, Guidance Counselor

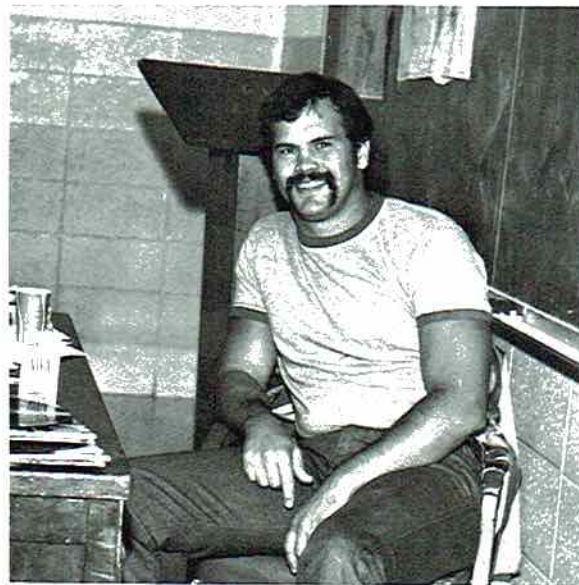

Mr. Bob Corsby, Science

This year we have one fewer faculty member. Mr. Collins, our business teacher, retired last year. Since our attendance has been down, we were not able to replace him. Mrs. Smith has taken over the Typing I class and Mrs. Harrison has taken over the accounting class. Regrettably, general business and business law were cut.

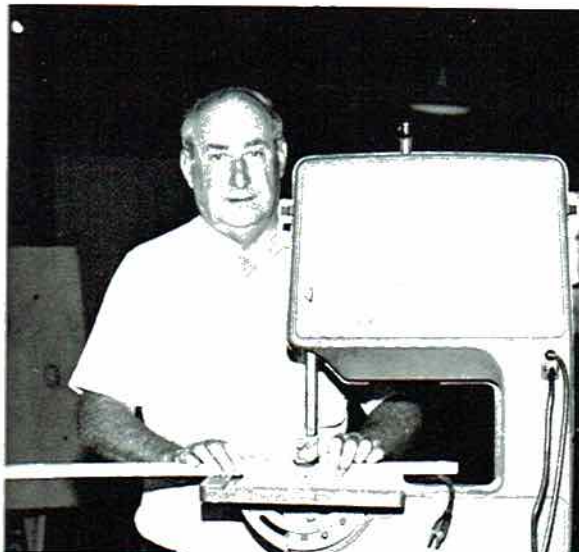

Several other teachers have had to take on classes that they did not have before this year: Mrs. Tally, seventh grade English; Mrs. Sarah Jane Williams, reading; Mr. Bowen, reading; Coach Storey, seventh grade English.

Mrs. Betty Harrison, Librarian

Coach Tony Rhodes, History

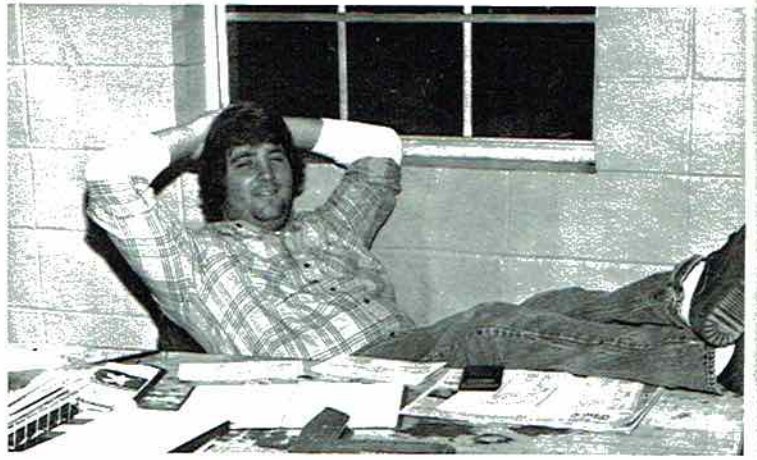

Mr. William Freeman, Agri-Business

Mrs. Sarah Jane Williams, Social Studies

Coach Jimmy Thomas, Learning Resources

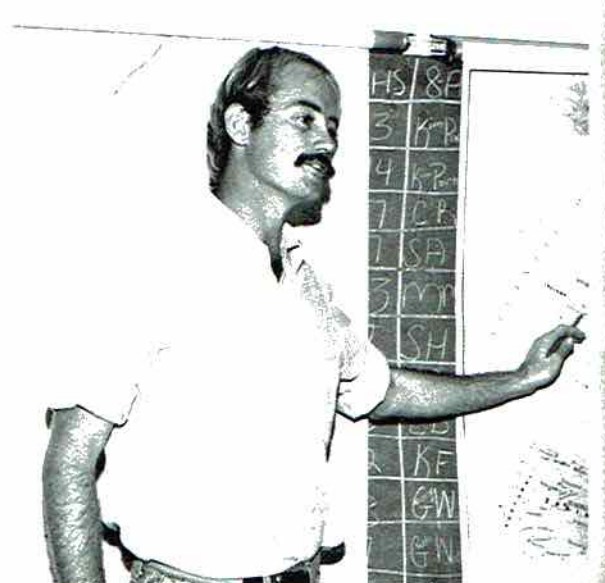

Mr. Michael Moore, Math

Mrs. Sue Smith, English

Mrs. Mary Abernathy, Math

Coach Jere McCraw, Science

Mr. Harold B. Hughes, Drivers' Education

Our curriculum has been broadened with the addition of a new math class. Mrs. Abernathy now teaches applied business math. Mr. Moore took over one class of Algebra I to make room for this new class. Some eighth graders have been allowed to take Algebra I in hopes that there will be a demand for higher math courses in later years.

Mr. Parker is teaching Latin for his second consecutive year. He seems to be producing some fine Latin scholars.

Pat Carlton and Doris Durham "Hanging around."

Linda Smith crowns our 1982 Homecoming Queen, Christel Rogers.

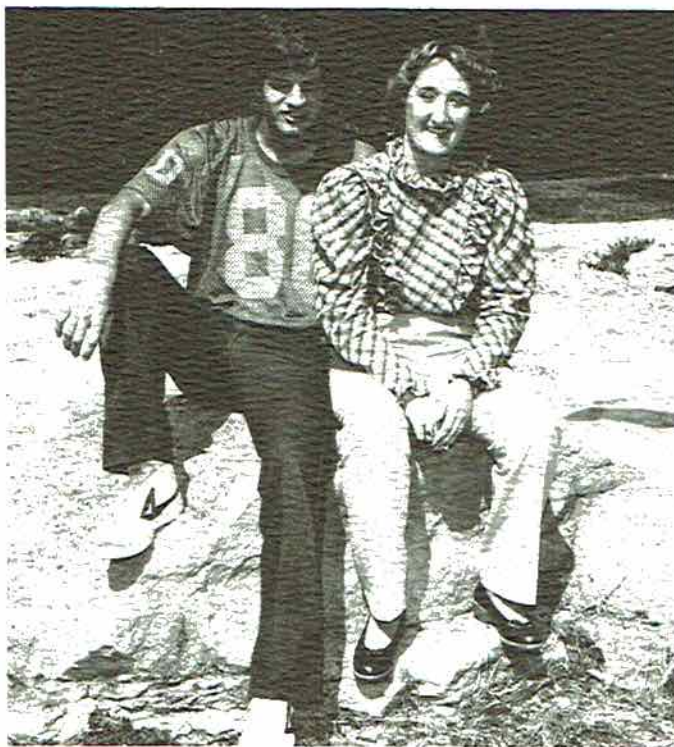

Bill Gothard elaborates on the next football game.

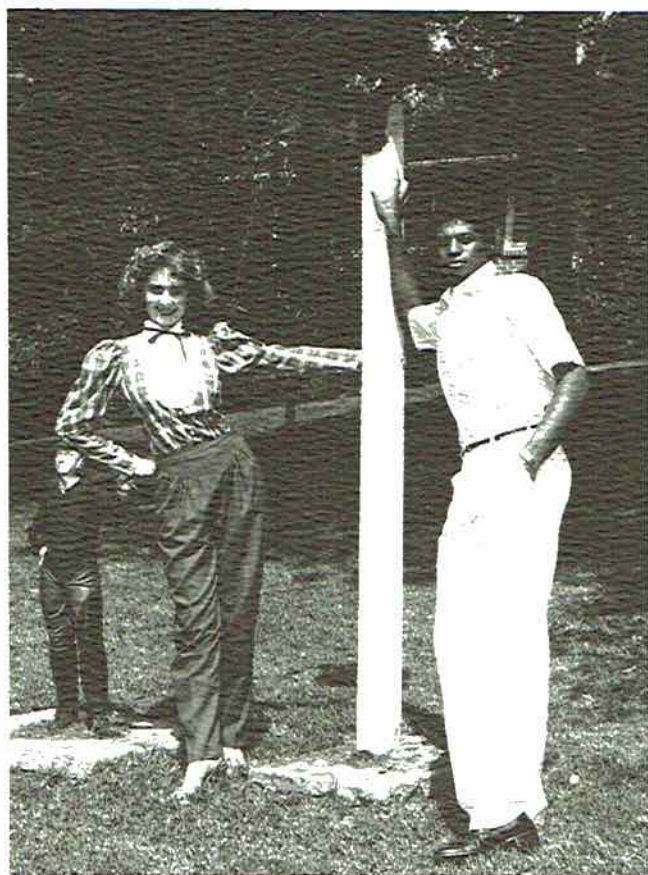

Being a senior at BHS provides certain privileges; for example, sitting in the senior sections of the gym and auditorium, getting out of class for college lectures, ordering invitations and caps and gowns, having senior portraits made, and being looked up to by the rest of the school.

As the days quickly flew by, important post-graduation decisions were made. Each senior's goals in life were different; some chose college, some jobs, and for a few, marriage was in the near future. Whatever their future plans, all of the seniors knew they would look back on their senior year as the best school days of all.

So Many Times it Happens too Fast

Fast was the word for this year. Time slipped quietly by for seniors during breaks and classes. This left many seniors wondering, "Where did the time go?"

Bang! Bang! You're dead!

Seniors wish that breaks would last all day.

Quick, hide the pictures.

The Seniors turned out to cheer the Tigers on this 1983 Senior Night.

Could Steve Moss be the Senior Strangler? Could Anna Potts be his first victim?

Mr. & Miss BHS for 1983—Brian Smith and Suzanne Hughes.

Rising Up, Straight to the Top

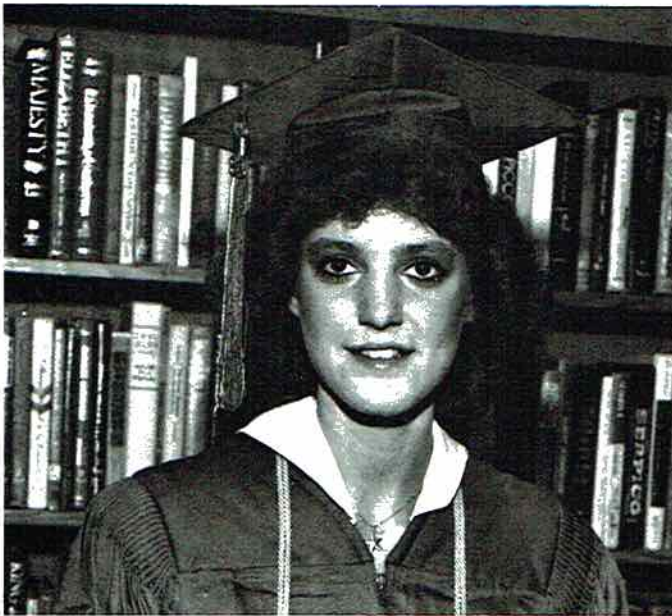

Honor Scholars are students who have maintained a 90 or above average over a seven semester period. Yet, these seniors have accomplished much more than an A average. They have shown good character by persevering toward their goals in a way that has finally paid off. These seniors should really be admired. We feel they are the cream of the crop!

Went the Distance, now I'm not going to stop!

The Bridgeport High School 1983 Commencement exercises took place on Friday May 20th at 7:30 p.m.

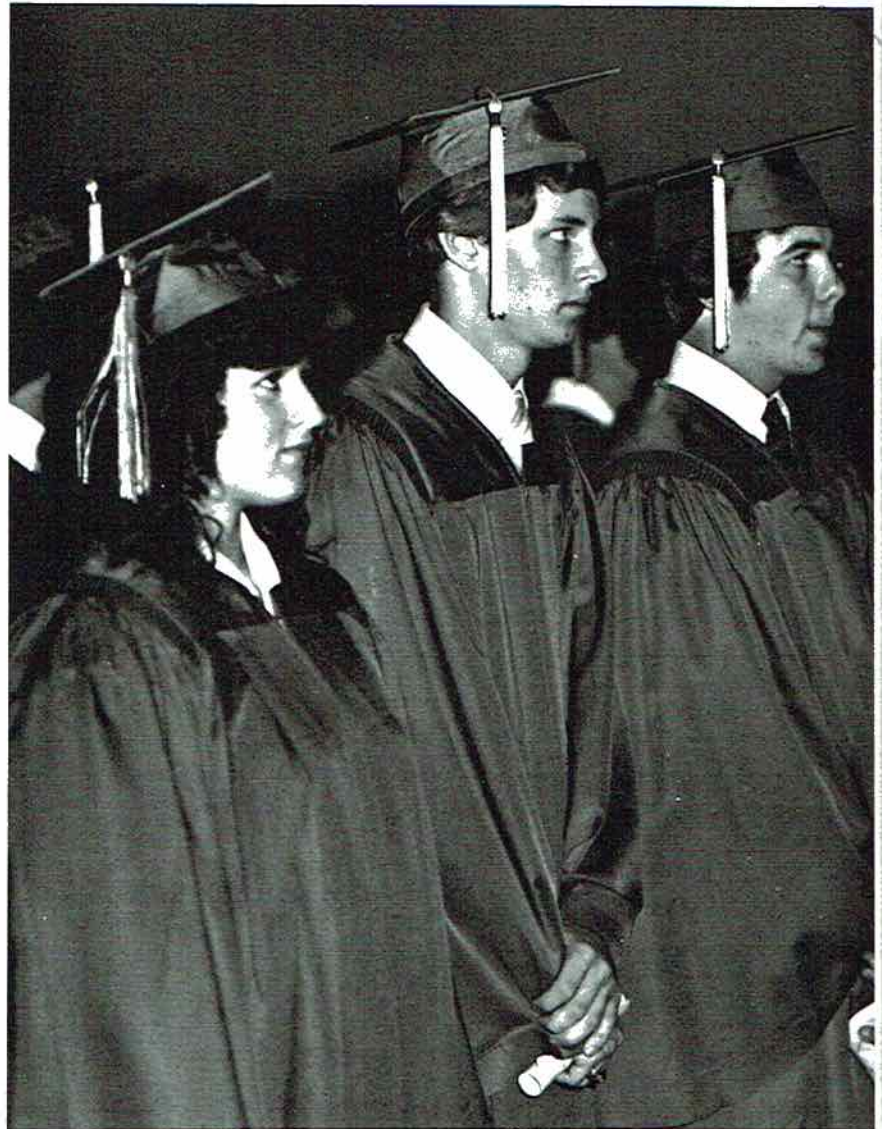

The welcome was given by the Senior Class President, Anna Potts. Salutatorian Janet Lawson titled her speech, "Tower in the Sky." She spoke about the future and the towers each senior must build for himself. The title of the valedictory address by Mary Sue Collins was "What is Graduation?" She spoke on what graduation means to a senior.

Scholarship and award winners were recognized by Mrs. Mountain and various members of the community. Recipients were: Mary Sue Collins—Avondale Scholarship to Auburn University, School Service Scholarship, Balfour award, and Literary award; Pat Carlton—Mead/Rotary Scholarship; Christel Rogers—Achievement Scholarship to NSJC and DAR Good Citizenship award; Wade Castle—Performans Arts Scholarship to NSJC; Donald Summer—Counselor's Scholarship to Jacksonville State University and John Philip Sousa Award; Chris Headrick—Jaycees' Scholarship; Susan Galovich—Tommy R. Howard Memorial Scholarship; John Stahl—First National Bank Scholarship; Cathy Peacock—Lion's Club Scholarship to NSJC; Suzanne Hughes—North Jackson Band Scholarship; Charlene Rowland—Lion's Club Scholarship to NSJC.

The Honor Scholars were recognized. Then Mr. Parker congratulated the class and presented them with their diplomas.

Student Life

"Here's to the Real Thing!"

Hard at work.

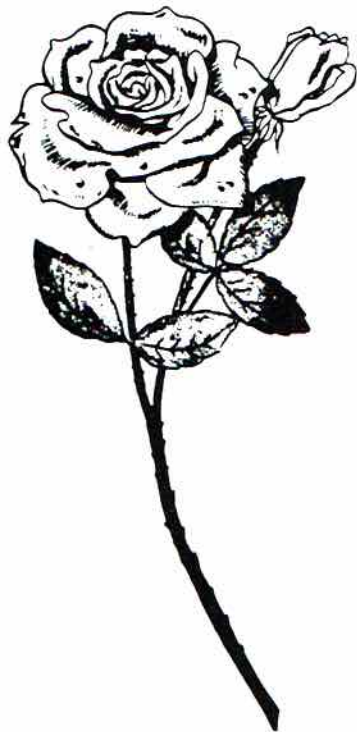

Taking it easy.

Togetherness.

Friendship.

Farewell To You

As we stand here today,
Torn 'twixt joy and sorrow
We recall yesterday
And wonder of tomorrow.

We think of fun times past
And of a future uncertain,
Which will be revealed so fast
By time's unveiling curtain.

As we brush a tear away,
The sparkle of youth does shine.
We must not turn away
And let our hearts repine.

The world is fresh and new,
Our hopes reach for the sky.
Yet our heart weeps tears anew
As our parting time draws nigh.

We say we'll write and keep in touch
And never drift apart.
Because we care so very much,
This comes from our hearts.

A special bond between us now
Will be torn slowly down
As we rise on the future's brow
To win our earthly crowns.

We may look back in years to come
And be able to lightly laugh,
But now as sounds of finality drum,
Our hearts are torn in half.

Some of us will regret to see it end here;
Some will draw a relieved sigh.
But we all hold this school dear
As we bid our final goodbye.

But let me say as I finish here
Farewell to you, my friends.
Your high school days have ended,
But your new life now begins!
